

A photograph of a community event at the Warner Park Community Center. The scene is outdoors with a brick building in the background. A large mural on the wall features a blue and red abstract design. In the foreground, several people are gathered. Some are sitting on folding chairs under a blue umbrella with the Kenyan flag logo. A man in a red tank top and white cap is looking at his phone. A woman in a pink shirt is standing with her arms crossed. The overall atmosphere is casual and community-oriented.
